He comes from Manor, this county, and is already well known to many local people.

VERY GOOD IMITATION $5 & $10 GOLD PIECES

Counterfeit gold pieces, a portion of which are glass, are being circulated in many parts of the country, and bankers and business men of the Monongahela valley are on a lookout for the bogus coin to turn up at any time. Secret service men are at work on the case. The bogus money are $5 and $10 denominations. In appearance and ring the coins are said to be almost perfect, the chief difference between the real stuff and the counterfeit is that almost 25 per cent. of the gold is replaced by molten glass, and the pieces are not heavy enough.

Tin Mill Worker's Foot is Quite Badly Injured

Joe McAninch of Knox avenue, employed at the Tin mill, is nursing a very sore foot. While at his work in the mill by some means, the foot was struck by a piece of tin and so badly cut that about six stitches were necessary at the hands of a doctor. He is now resting comfortably at the home of his brother-in-law, W. D. Cowan and will likely be laid up about ten days.

CONTRACTOR-COUNCILMAN CHARLES SHRADER TAKES SILENT LEAVE OF TOWN

Charles S. Shrader, manager of the contracting firm of George S. Shrader & Son, and president of the Monessen council has disappeared, and no one seems to know where he is located. Mr. Shrader disposed of his household articles, his automobile and other personal belongings and quietly went away. Neither his father nor his brothers seem to know where he is located, and neither can they assign any cause for his disappearance.

Mr. Shrader has been a resident of Monessen for a number of years, and his career here was identified with the contracting business, and many of the best homes and business blocks in town were designed and built by his firm. The contracting business for the past two or three years has been done through the name of the father, George S. Shrader. Several contracts are at present under way and it is understood the business will go right on under the personal direction of the father. So far no resignation has been sent to council and it is likely no action will be taken at tonight's meeting toward filling the vacancy.

Painters Defeat Barbers By a Very Close Margin

The following interesting duckpin game was rolled last night on the Colonial alleys between the Barbers and Painters of Monessen. A good game was played by both sides and a large crowd was present. INJUNCTION GRANTED IN FAVOR OF TIN MILL

An injunction restraining four South Connellsville men from tearing down or hauling away property of the American Sheet and Tin Plate company located in that town, has been granted in chambers by Judge J. Q. Van Swearingen at Uniontown.

According to the corporation, the South Connellsville men, Thomas Kelly, R. S. Pierce, O. A. McNeal and Mineral Oibeck, are now or have been actively engaged in the work of tearing down a certain clock house, a machine shop, a box storage house and the fence enclosing the property. In addition the quartet are accused of threatening to tear down other buildings.

The court issued a temporary injunction and named April 10 at 10 a. m., as the time for a hearing.

Officers Looking for Cracksman Suspect

Monongahela officers are looking for a well dressed young man of pleasing appearance who is believed to know something of the gentle art of breaking safes and robbing houses. The man, about 19 years of age, applied for a job on a farm in Forward township. He put up at a lodging house until Sunday, when his prospective employer came after him. The young man was absent, but the woman of the house showed the farmer what was an almost complete kit of burglar tools in the stranger's room and the farmer decided he did not need the man.

Later the young man returned to the lodging house and learning he had not secured the job, took his possessions and left.

Police of Monongahela, Monessen, Charleroi and all along the valley are keeping careful watch for the appearance of this questionable young man.

Mothers' Pension Work

Mrs. John S. Duvall will attend the meeting in Greensburg tomorrow of the Mothers' Pension Trustees, this being the regular April meeting.

At present 388 applications are on file from women who seek pensions to help them keep their children at home, and at present Westmoreland county is paying 43 pensions a month to mothers whose circumstances merit it. Pensions range down the scale to less than $5.00.

Recently an article explaining the work of the Mothers' Pension trustees was published in a foreign newspaper. Since the appearance of that article, the office of the Mothers' Pension board in the court house has been swamped with letters from foreign women from all over this end of the state, petitioning for help. Some of the letters were written in a foreign language untranslatable to most people. A bunch of eight letters was forwarded to Westmoreland county from Allegheny county where they had been sent by mistake from residents of this county.

Mothers' Pension work in Westmoreland county has been much hindered because of the lack of funds. If the larger appropriation bill is successfully passed by all branches of the legislature and becomes a law, a great many of the perplexities confronting the county Mothers' Pension Trustees will be dissolved.

New Motor Starter

H. A. Irwin of 673 Reed avenue, has placed on the market a Genco mechanical starter for Ford cars and is sole agent in Monessen. Elsewhere will be found an advertisement in this paper dealing with the new appliance and Mr. Irwin will be glad to explain its operations to anyone interested.

From burns sustained when her clothing became inflamed as she played about a fire near her home, Nellie Biagi, aged six years and five months, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Biagi of Vesta, is dead and was buried yesterday.

BAR ROOM TROUBLE IS GIVEN AIRING

Mike Hundra of Third street, was before Burgess Dunlap this morning charged with being disorderly in the pool room of Alex Johns, corner Third and Schoonmaker. The man broke the glas on a chandelier amounting to $1.50 and was going to clean up the place when Mr. Johns called an officer. Hundra pled guilty, paid for the glass and paid a fine of $3.00 and costs.

Henry Hill and James Washington were charged with disorderly conduct and using bad language in the Fifth Avenue hotel. Hill said the proprietor used the same kind of language he did and that their actions were not disorderly. No one appeared against the men and they were exonerated on that charge. Hill however, became ugly in the police station and used bad language to Mr. Martz. The burgess fined him $3.00 and costs on this charge.

Difference Between Towns

The Charleroi Mail sees a difference in the way court is operated in Monessen and Charleroi. It says:

"A Charleroi man went motoring in Monessen and ran amuck with the law. A Charleroi young man went motoring in Charleroi and ran amuck with the law. The man in Monessen was fined; the man in Charleroi was not.

That expresses in brief the details of a double joined automobile [illegible] of Monday night. The man arrested in Monessen was Alex Korsione. Before he left that thriving, though dusty community, he contributed $14 to the borough treasury, that being the amount of fine and the costs imposed by Burgess A. G. Dunlap. The charge was reckless driving and disorderly conduct. In Charleroi, C. Stahlman was arrested for over speeding and taken before Burgess S. L. Woodward. Stahlman was given a severe lecturing and discharged.

THE PROPER PLAN

There's a woman's organization with headquarters in New York city that is spreading with amazing rapidity. Its object is not to advance the cause of equal suffrage nor to promote the study of science, literature or art, but its humble sphere is the making of happier homes. It is the National Housewives' league, and the crux of the movement is, in its president's words, "The developing of wide-awake, self-reliant housewives."

When time hangs heavy on your hands, ladies; when the bridge party palls and the society game no longer entices, turn your attention for a moment to this movement. It will be redundant in satisfaction. The following extracts from the president of the Houston league shows that real, practical results are being had in that city:

"Last summer when sugar advanced to 8 1-3 cents per pound and beef to 30 cents, a few of our women got together, talked the situation over and decided that something must be done. All summer we probed and investigated and were forcibly convinced that women as buyers needed to be organized, and because the Housewives' league was already established, we joined hands with them.

"Since that time we have accomplished the reduction of beef from 25 and 30 cents to 15 cents for the choice cuts and less for other parts. We have reduced fish from 15 cents to 7, 8 and 9 cents.

"We have inaugurated the use of pennies in buying our foodstuffs. Our clothing stores have always given penny prices and now nearly all our food stores do so.

"Houston food merchants have never advertised prices---told us emphatically they never would. But the first man to reduce meat had the nerve to advertise his prices. Others do now. We can take the evening paper and inform ourselves as to prices before going marketing the next morning. This creates real competition.

"We have insisted also on a pat of butter, not the 14 ounces we got when we started our work. By constant agitation we have convinced the dealer that to get the trade he must put up a 16 ounce pound of butter.

"Our plan for reducing prices was not to hammer the merchant down nor to ask him to cut his profits unduly, but to try the 'Cash over the Counter' system and to advertise prices in the daily papers at least once a week.

"This idea was the result of the general claim of merchants interviewed that delivery cost, charge accounts and the incidental bookkeeping expense, bad debts and slow pay customers, were so heavy as to necessitate the high prices.

"'Cash Over the Counter' or rather 'Pay cash and take your bundle home' does away with this expense and loss to the merchant, so we ask him to share the saving with the housewives.'

"The best part of our work in Houston, we feel, has been the developing of wide-awake, self-conscious housewives. We are dignifying housekeeping and placing it on the basis of a profession. Our slogan—'Pay cash and take your bundle home'; our policy—a smile; our watchword—frugality."

NOBODY HOME

It has often been said, and as often doubted and denied that "there is nothing new under the sun." The discovery that most modern slang is very ancient in origin, however, seems to prove the old saying to be correct. If the newest slang is not new what under the sun is new? Nothing so measures the modernity of the alert American of today as his or her command of good slang, good in this case meaning recent. With an adequate and sufficiently untarnished selection of slang phrases, the rattle brain can discomfit and put to route the most learned professor in a discussion in which the professor has chosen his own hold and is employing the half-nelson of his own favorite hobby.

Today if somebody "puts one over" on you in conversation your cue is to tap your forehead significantly and say with sadness to those who have witnessed what otherwise would be your prostration upon the field of verbal conflict "Nobody home!" By these magic words you asperse the sanity of your opponent so cleverly as to array public opinion on your side.

Investigators have found that "nobody home" is no new phrase. Alexander Pope heads a considerable list of great writers who have thus expressed a cranium vacuum. The latest addition to the list of authorities of this charming retort is Charles Dickens who in Nicholas Nickleby has Squeers say "for he is wanting here," touching his forehead; "nobody home, you know, if you knocked ever so often."

SUNDAY'S MONEY

Poor Billy Sunday is having his own troubles. It seems that there are people, who even though they believe that "the laborer is worthy of his hire," think that he ought to tell his employers what he does with the money they give him. It is estimated that the evangelist makes about $200,000 a year and yet this immense sum does not bring peace and serenity to the plain speaking preacher. Somebody is always asking, not "where did you get it?" but "what are you going to do with it?" Sunday had hardly left Philadelphia before another former associate demands an accounting. The dissatisfied party this time is Francis Porter, a former press agent for Sunday, who sends to the newspapers a statement in which he demands an accounting of the $60,000 contributed by Philadelphians to the support of the evangelist's campaign there. Porter declares there is a shortage of more than $20,000 and says: "The real truth of the situation is that you (Sunday) are commercializing the name of Jesus Christ, boldly using His sacred name to advertise a money-making business"

"A decided disposition," his statement continues, "has been shown (by the campaign committee) to avoid supplying the contributors to this fund with detailed information regarding its disbursements."

How Some People Save

It has often been remarked that when one tries to save—say a man by abstaining from tobacco or cigars and a woman from candy and ice cream—the amount unexpended goes into something else just as unnecessary. It is all like saving at the spigot and wasting at the bung. According to a western paper, the Hon. William Allen White has given his personal experience with the water wagon in prohibited Kansas, and says: "We have saved about $20 a head from our liquor bill to spend for things worth while." Then he gives the following as to the manner the savings went in another direction:

Subscription to Commoner	$1.00
Phonograph record of "Old Black Joe"	.25
Ditto of "We Shall Meet Beside the River"	.25
2 celluloid collars at 18c	.36
1 pr. mail order shoes	1.98
1,000 shares of Mexican mine stock	1 00
2 cakes of scented toilet soap	.15
1 pigs in clover puzzle	.10
1 box mail order cigars	$1.00
1 copy of "The Life and Times of James A. Garfield	1.40
Chautauqua season ticket	2.00
For the heathen in Borneo	.10
For the ditto in Formosa	.05
For the ditto in Guatemala	.05
4 bottles of cologne water	.35
Peanuts and chewing gum	3.39
1 Brazilian diamond scarf pin	.40
1 copy of "Night Life in Chicage	.10
1 copy of "Confession of an Actress"	.10
Postage on 62 applications for government documents	.62
Postage on 38 answers to fake advertisements	.76
1 divining rod	2.00
4 pounds of stick candy	.24
Subscription to Ed. Howe's Monthly	.10
1 genuine Gaurerium violin (by mail)	2.10
1 madstone	.15
Tatol	$20.00

That is not altogether a bit of humor. If everyone kept a daily list of what he spends, it will be seen that the money is not wasted on so called luxuries like tobacco, beer, candy and ice cream, but on many another thing we could well do without, and to which we never give a thought.—Bethlehem, Pa. COMFORTING WORDS

Many a Monessen Household Will Find Them So

To have the pains and aches of a bad back removed—to be entirely free from annoying, dangerous urinary disorders, is enought to make any kidney sufferer grateful. The following advice of one who has suffered will prove comforting to hundreds of Monessen readers.

Mrs Ida Coleman, 311 Sixth street, Monessen, says: "I was troubled by a constant backache and in the morning especially when I stooped to put on my shoes, I found it hard to straighten. Sharp pains took my breath away. I felt tired all the time and had dizzy spells and hot flashes My head ached. I doctored for a long time, but I didn't get much good and finally I used Doan's Kidney Pills, which I got at Kirk's Drug store. They gave me great relief and after I had taken the second box, the trouble disappeared. I haven't had any cause for complaint since. Others of the family are now using Doan's Kidney Pills and consider them the best kidney medicine on the market.

Price 50c at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Coleman had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

Ofiicer Died From Shot

John Stevens, aged 46, special officer of the Keystone Coal and Coke compay near Greensburg, was shot at an early hour yesterday morning and is in the Westmoreland hospital.

John Shapsky, aged 23, is in jail pending the outcome of Steven's injuries. Stevens alleges that the man shot him without provocation.

Officer Stevens died in the hospital at 4 o'clock yesterday morning. The shooting occurred at the shaft near Herminie at 10 o'clock Sunday morning. A physician was called and ordered Stevens sent to the hospital. Shapsky was placed under arrest by a detail of state police and taken to the county jail.

The accused is 23 years old, a deaf mute, and although always known to be slightly demented, was considered harmless. The injured officer and he were the best of friends and no reason is known for the act. When he was visited by his parents in the jail, he appeared to know nothing about the shaoting.

Sketch of Young Joe Grimm, Boxes in Charleroi Saturday Night

Young Joe Grimm, one of the best known battlers in the United States is not known by that name in the family circle. Round his own fireside he is known as Silvio Martino, no kin however to the gent who stands sponser for a famous decoction. Martino took the name of Young Joe Grimm for boxing purposes only, and it has been a splendid trademark, and he doesn't lose his temper when friends call him Joe. Silvio is an Italian, having been born at Cosenza, Italy, November 28, 1888. He came to Pittsburgh when quite young, and grew up in the downtown section. He took to boxing during his school days and soon became proficient in the game.

His first bout was with Pete Demark. Joe registered a knockout in two rounds. This happened about nine years ago. A rematch was suggested and Joe was willing. This time the lads appeared before a private club on Ozark street. The mill lasted four frames. Grimm landed the persimmon, but he failed, however, to put Denmark to sleep. Joe received $150 for his split and that was sufficient joy. "It looked like a million to me" said Joe when spinning incidents of his career. Some weeks later Patsy Scott got an idea in his head that he could put the blinkers on Grimm. A match was made with the magnificient sum of $300 set aside as a temptation to the maulers. In the second round Joe's right hinge smashed Patsy in the jugular and Patricio rolled over faster than Schranks did when "T. R.'s" stenographer made that flying tackle. The referee, however, was deaf, dumb, blind and speechless. The timekeeper, therefore, started to toll the fateful ten. He had reached the seventh notch, when suddenly the referee awoke from his trance and took up the burden.,

He, however, started from the getaway, ignoring the timekeeper's record. Just as the new counter got six points, the bell clanged for rest time. Scott was carried to his corner, where he revived under the liberal sniffs of a magic bottle. Grim was wild with rage and determined to make the next stinger sink so deep that Patsy would be in dreamland. When the bell sounded, he didn't quite accomplish his desire, but he showed such clear superiority over Scott, there was only one winner. Grimm in addition to boxing for cash, indentured himself to the barber trade, which he followed until journeyman stakes were cleared. This vocation was entirely too dull for the Italian-American boy. He finally decidede to sell his shop. He put himself under the management of Tommy Coleman, the partnership worked well, and Grimm beat a number of good boys. He began to train daily in a gymnasium with Freddy Ziringer as a sparring mate.

Some match makers chanced to observe Dutch and Joe have one of their spirited knockouts. They reasoned that the bout was sure to tickle patrons and accordingly the young men were matched for an eight round scrap at South Sharon. The meet ended in a draw. Grimm was handed a ten spot for his maneuvers. Later Grimm and Ziringer were signed up for a six round spree before a local club and when the affair had gone five rounds, the referee stopped the slugging as one of Joe's esquires claimed Grimm was sick Joe demurred to this plea and begged to be allowed to continue, but was overruled.

News that Dutch had beaten Grimm flashed over the city, and Joe Trombi, a sparring pal of Grimm, issued a difi. Joe didn't want to go on with a struggle against an old friend, but Trombi was insistent. Therefore a scrap fight was arranged, and it took place in a friend's bed room. Several side bets featured the event. Grimm rammed his old side kick to the carpet in two rounds and confident that Ziringer "hadn't anything on him" Grim sought a third spell with the Dutchman. Grimm says that in this test he was awarded the newspaper decision with something to spare. Grimm saved enough lucre out of his encounter to go abroad and he traveled for half a year in Cadiz, Barcelona, Gibralter, Genoa, Rome, Naples and Cozena, his native heath. He had a fine time illustrating to countrymen how Americans put up their props. Coming back to his adopted soil, Grimm fought several local bouts. Then he was set up against Johnny Kilbourne in a furious seven inning dead beat at Youngstown, Ohio.

Elated at his showing against the Clevelander, Joe hurried to Philadelphia. He knew that it was a dangerous territory, but satisfied that he could fight handily, he didn't fear the peril. He showed excellently against such dandies as Johnny Allen, Joe Theel, Eddie O'Keefe, and others. A fallout with his manager over money matters tired Joe of Philadelphia, and he dug out for good old Pittsburgh, arriving there dead broke.

Soon after his return, Joe got a match with Jimmy Walsh of Boston, that veteran refusing to make good his agreement at bell time and another youth was substituted.

Joe Gety and Grimm were pitted next, but the Johnstowner's disinclination to get into the game and mix, made an unsatisfactory set-to. No winner was possible. Following another successful pilgrimage to Philadelphia, the black haired youth came back to Pittsburgh and gave Tommy Lowe the first trouncing he received in Pittsburgh. On this trip Grimm vows that he fought eleven times, won ten eimes and had one draw.

Mapping out a jaunt to the Pacific coast, Joe turned his face toward California. Planning an easy stage journey at Cleveland, he ran across Tommy Gavigan, whose hustling abilities secured the Pittsburgher fourteen matches in the forest city and various parts of Indiana. The worst Grimm received in any event was a draw. He didn't face lemons either, going into the arena with such tough ginks as Louie Schultz, Jack Lepper and Kid Graves, the latter being welter-weight champion of the world.

"Young Joe Grimm" has been home for several months and hasn't figured in any local circle. However, he doesn't have to importune match makers to [illegible] him, he saves his money, is always [illegible]roomed and while not unreasonable in his demands, isn't to be caught with small bait like $50 for example. He feels that he has the goods and clubs should pay for them. He is a challenger of the universe at 133 pounds. No one is barred at that weight. Joe has a well selected letter head on which he communicates with clubs and transacts his business in a busines like manner. His record speaks for itself, it doesn't need boosting. Grimm boxes Swats Adamson at the Charleroi rink, Saturday, April 10, and no doubht there will be a large gathering of boxing enthusiasts to see him.

WOMEN FROM 45 to 55 TESTIFY

To the Merit of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound during Change of Life.

Westbrook, Me. — "I was passing through the Change of Life and had pains in my back and side and was so weak I could hardly do my housework. I have taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it has done me a lot of good. I will recommend your medicine to my friends and give you permission to publish my testimonial." — Mrs. LAWRENCE MARTIN, 12 King St., Westbrook, Maine.

Manston, Wis. — "At the Change of Life I suffered with pains in my back and loins until I could not stand. I also had night-sweats so that the sheets would be wet. I tried other medicine but got no relief. After taking one bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I began to improve and I continued its use for six months. The pains left me, the night-sweats and hot flashes grew less, and in one year I was a different woman. I know I have to thank you for my continued good health ever since." — Mrs. M. J. BROWNELL, Manston, Wis.

The success of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, is unparalleled in such cases.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman, and held in strict confidence.

WORK ON THE HIGHWAYS NOW STARTED

Harrisburg, Pa., April 6—Gov. Martin G. Brumbaugh has ordered all maintenance work on the state highways to begin at once. He found that former Highway Commisisoner E. M. Bigelow had all plans ready for the resumption before he retired from office and all the executive needs to do is to push the button to get things going.

Since the retirement of Mr. Bigelow and pending the appointment of his successor, Deputy Commissioner Josepr W. Hunter is in charge of the department. The governor Saturday sent the following telegram to Mr. Hunter in Jenkintown:

"Want you on Monday to begin the work on the state highways. The plans being all made, will you quickly get the force on the road? See me soon."

The action in the house Friday on the Wilson resolution calling on prompt action by the highway deparment in putting the roads in condition, is believed to have spurred the governor to activity.

The resolution pointed out that $800,000 is available for maintenance and something should be done at once. In moving to recommit his resolution, Henry I. Wilson of Jefferson, said his proposition already was bearing fruit as he had assurance from the "right direction that the subject matter of the resolution will have prompt attention."

$20,000,000 Mystery Coming to the Star

Manager Cowan has arranged to soon begin the great serial picture, "The $20,000,000 Mystery" which is Zudora entirely re-written and put in the hands of new players. The Star last fall ran a few numbers of Zudora, as it was then, but the picture not being considered satisfactory it was called in and "hung up."

In the meantime, the play has been named "The $20,000,000 Mystery" wholly re-written and the play put into the hands of the same people who acted "The Million Dollar Mystery," including James Cruze, Marguerite Snow and others, and to work with them has been chosen a company of star actors fully as capable as they. It will be a great picture, one among the finest ever produced.

G. A. R. MEN TO CELEBRATE ON FRIDAY

Capt. S. S. Marchand Post 190 G. A. R. at Irwin will celebrate the fiftieth anniversary of the surrender of General R. E. Lee and his confederate army of Northern Virginia to General U. S. Grant, Friday evening at 7:30 in the town hall. Arrangements have been made for speakers for the evening from Pittsburgh, McKeesport and Greenbsurg. Everybody is invited and patriotic orders are specially invited. This invitation comes from the G. A. R. post. A good program will be rendered by the high school, the G. A. R. having asked for this program in celebration of the fiftieth anniversary of Lee's surrender to Grant at Appomattox. It seems only fitting that this opportunity should be grasped to impress upon the minds of the present generation the blessings of 50 years of peace and a reunited country.

A FORD AUTO SERVED QUITE NEW PURPOSE

Ford automobiles have been used for nearly everything under the sun. They have been remodeled into other vehicles. They have been combined with other mechanical devices and answered the purpose. Yesterday was called upon to serve as an obstetrical ward.

Mrs. Mary Hudwatt arrived in Brownsville Saturday with two lady companions. They hired one of the White Line taxi Fords to convey them to Mrs. Hudwatt's home in California. The driver, Glen Hughes, was driving the women to their destination when of a sudden he heard mournful voices and was told to stop the car. In a few moments a child entered the world and was wrapped in garments which the three women could provide for it. The embarrassed chauffeur took a walk up the road. When he returned he completed the journey.

Mrs. Hudwatt was taken to a physician's office and then removed to her home, where she is lying in a critical condition from the shock. Little Bornina Ford, for the new infant was a baby girl, died before the Ford could secure medical attention for her.

BETTER THAN CALOMEL

Thousands Have Discovered Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a Harmless Substitute

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the substitute for calomel—are a mild but sure laxative, and their effect on the liver is almost instantaneous. They are the result of Dr. Edwards' determination not to treat liver and bowel complaints with calomel. His efforts to banish it brought out these little olive-colored tablets.

These pleasant little tablets do the good that calomel does but have no bad after effects. They don't injure the teeth like strong liquids or calomel. They take hold of the trouble and quickly correct it. Why cure the liver at the expense of the teeth? Calomel sometimes plays havoc with the gums. So do strong liquids.

It is best not to take calomel, but to let Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets take its place.

Most headaches, "dullness" and that lazy feeling come from constipation and a disordered liver. Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets when you feel "loggy" and "heavy." Note how they "clear" clouded brain and how they "perk up" the spirits. At 10c and 25c per box. All druggists.

PAMPERED PUP CHEWED GUM THEN DIED.

"Prince," the prize fox terrier, who received three baths and a talcum powder rub every week, had his toe nails manicured, ate nothing but chocolate and bon bons and slept in a bed—is dead. Death was due to an operation on the throat. The extraordinary dog was owned by well known Uniontown people who refused to alloy their names published

This dog was not the kind of dog usually seen on the Uniontown streets or in most Uniontown homes. "Prince" was a full blooded fox terrior and was purchased at a very high figure by its owners. The dog never knew what it meant to sleep on anything but a feather bed and was always covered with sheets, blankets, comforts, etc., during the winter months. The temperature in the dog's room was always regulated the same as it would have been for a human being.

"Prince" was taught from the time he was but a small pup to eat the choicest of foods and his tastes soon grew to the most dainty delicacies. The dog, "in his youth" formed the habit of using chewing gum to excess, and while his owner would be giving him his bath three times each week and then giving him a talcum powder rub as he stepped from the bath tub, the dog would be chewing his favorite brand of chewing gum, which was "Beech Nut." Every week Prince was called into his master's room where his nails were manicured. It was his delight to partake of some chocolates and bon bons while this operation was under way.

The dog would drink water from nothing other than a china plate and always refused to eat from a tin pan. Several days ago Prince was found in great agony. He was at once taken to Doctor Waldron, the well known veterinarian, who discovered that the chewing gum had not always been digestible with the dog and that a large clot had clogged in his throat. An operation was performed to remove the gum which proved fatal.

Robt. H. Wright

Tuesday's Uniontown Herald

"Robert H. Wright, for the past 37 years a resident of Dawson, and justice of the peace of that borough, and widely known throughout Fayette county, died suddenly at his home at 4:15 o'clock yesterday afternoon of pneumonia. He was serving his fourth term as justice of the peace of the borough of Dawson and his sudden death was a severe shock to a host of prominent Fayette countians who were numbered among his staunchest friends. He was also one of the nine viewers of roads recently appointed by the courts.

About two weeks ago Mr. Wright suffered an attack of pneumonia from which he recovered sufficiently to permit of his coming to Uniontown Saturday on a business mission. After his return home he suffered a sudden relapse and was again compelled to take to his bed. During the afternoon of yesterday, he was visited by his son Frank, of Monessen, who left shortly prior to his father's death for home. At the time Mr. Wright was in a very humorous mood and joked with those about him. His case was not considered serious by the attending physician who left a few minutes before the son.

About 4 o'clock, however, he suffered a relapse and sank rapidly until the end.

Mr. Wright was the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Wright of Perryopolis, having been born there 63 years ago. He received his early education in the public schools of that place. His father was a merchant and after he left school, he entered his father's store. There he learned the business thoroughly and 37 years ago moved to Dawson where he started in the same business for himself.

In this line of business Mr. Wright was extremely successful as in all the undertakings he attempted. He continued in this business until his election to the office of justice of the peace. While in that office he has been fair and impartial in his business dealings and negotiated many options for responsible persons. He accumulated a large estate.

During his life, the deceased was loved by all the children of the borough, his jolly nature attaching them to him. His smiling disposition won him a place in the hearts of all who knew him. Politically he was a Democrat. Besides his widow and son, G. F. Wright, an undertaker at Monessen, he leaves a daughter Eva, at home, and a sister, Mrs. Abram Truxel of Scottdale.
